Official Paper of Cochise Co.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1899.

It is reported from London that William Waldorf Astor has become a British subject. If true America is to be congratulated. There are others of the same ilk this country can afford to lose.

On the 27th of this month the anti-cigarette law enacted by the Twenty-sixth legislature will go into effect. Its object is to prevent boys under the age of sixteen years from contracting the cigarette habit.

ENGLAND is apparently willing to meet us half way on every issue between the two nations except the Mrs. Maybrick issue. There is nothing England still delights in so much as harsh and bullying treatment of helpless prisoners in her jails.

Who would have thought a year ago that a Spanish soldier would ever become so glad to see the yankee bullet pump as to hug him, yet such was the scene witnessed when a dozen or more Spanish prisoners were released from the Philippines in an engagement recently. —Las Vegas Optic.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, one of the luminous colored men in this country, advises his people in the south to vote the democratic ticket as the democratic party represents the best element in that section. Mr. Washington thinks too that republican office seekers in the south are responsible for the constant friction between the whites and blacks.

The coming Secretary of War is a great lawyer. That is conceded. But there are those who want to know why a military man was not selected for the War Department. There are going to be more problems connected with the government of the new possessions than questions pertaining to the conduct of the war. That is why a good lawyer was selected.

A TELEGRAM from Trieste says that when Admiral Dewey was asked as to the correctness of the remark attributed to him that "Our next war will be with Germany," he said, "I long ago gave up denying or affirming newspaper reports." It is a good, safe ten-to-one wager that the admiral never made the assertion, and being quoted in that way was simply a piece of spite work on the part of some correspondent.

AT LAST the administration at Washington has decided that the Philippines detained at San Francisco may land. Ever since their detention we have wondered on what ground they are anything according to the terms of the purchase. The act of detention in that particular demonstrates that the administration is invading new fields so rapidly that it cannot well keep up with itself.

The visit of President Porfirio Diaz, of the Republic of Mexico, to the United States, will be an event of national importance to this country. President Diaz has managed the affairs of our sister Republic so ably and efficiently that Mexico is coming rapidly to the front, and is attracting more attention in the financial centers of the world than ever before. The recent placing of the large Mexican loan at extremely favorable rates of interest in New York City will bring the commercial relations of the two Republics much closer together.

This Topeka Journal wants this government to go into the colonial business. It says: "Omitting all questions of policy, there will never be any peaceful or stable government in the West Indies until the inhabitants become citizens of the United States. A revolt by a few thousand people against a power sustained by millions of patriots would appear so discouraging at the outset that it would scarcely be attempted. When the islands become a part of the great Republic, revolutions and assassinations will cease. They are a part of the white man's burden and must be shouldered some time whether we wish it or not." We fear that the white man's burden is his insatiable greed and conceit.

"WAGES are going up," they tell us, when we complain of the republican trust-making policy. Let us see how the trust can afford to increase wages, and how they do not in fact benefit labor. A trust is composed, let us say, of twenty concerns. They each employ 200 hands earning $500 a year on the average, and 25 more expensive help or traveling salesmen, averaging $2,000 a year. The aggregate is 5,000 hands, earning $2,500,000, and 500 office men, earning $1,000,000; grand total of the pay-rolls, $3,500,000. If, on completing the combine, it is determined to reduce the force of hands one-fourth—often it is more—it cuts the remaining pay-roll down to $1,875,000. Only one in ten, say, of the office and traveling force is retained, the roll of the remaining 50 amounting to $1,000,000. Total of the remaining pay-rolls, $1,875,000. How much, then, has the trust saved by the combine? Why, the difference between the former pay-roll and the remaining—$1,775,000. "We will increase wages," says the trust, and it does so—a paltry 10 per cent. This will require $197,500, and this can be paid out of what has been saved by the combine on wages alone, and have $1,677,500 remaining. Not only has an army of unemployed been turned loose, but the price of the product has been raised, as is the case of lumber wire, from $1.75 to $3 per hundred within a year. Down with the trusts. —Democratic Press Bulletin.

Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was disheartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. S., and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely, building up my health and increasing my appetite. Although this was ten years ago, I have never yet had a sign of the disease to return.

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury; besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.
